

Dear Families,

Our Beginning the Year Study was quite a success. It was filled with new, rich vocabulary, curiosity and questioning. Our learning has a strong foundation and we are ready to move on to our next study, Bread. We will begin our new study on September 30, 2019. One of the children's favorite meals in school is pizza and pizza bagels. This is really going to help us kick off our Bread study. Aside from pizza, we have eaten different types of bread in school, but have never really discussed how it is made. We have questioned it, but now it is time to dig deep and discover. Their interest in this topic is going to make for a fantastic Bread Study.

To get our study started, we would love your assistance in gathering some materials to help enhance our study. If you have baking gear, old ingredient boxes, cookbooks or pictures of bread, please send them in. These materials help to enhance our Dramatic Play Area and really bring our studies to life. If you have a special recipe that is unique to your family or culture, we would also love if you could share it with us. We welcome your continued support and your involvement. It really excites the children to see their families participate. If you do send an item in, please label it with your child's name, so it can be returned when we have finished.

To extend our study at home, talk to your child about baking, or maybe a favorite recipe that is special to your family or culture. Help your child to understand how bread is made and the ingredients used. This is a great way to learn to ask and answer questions. We are looking forward to a wonderful study ahead!

Thank you for your continued support,
